SAARC Internship Programme

Eligibility

1. The SAARC Internship Program is open to under-graduate, graduate and post-graduate students from South Asia.
2. The SIP is open also to researchers of any nationality working in South Asian research institutes based within the region.

Under this program, the interested students or researchers will be placed at the SAARC Secretariat in Kathmandu for a period of two weeks to six months, depending upon the need and nature of the projected research work and the requests so made by the prospective internees. The SAARC Secretariat offers internship in two sessions in a year; Summer (May- July) and Winter (November- January) and try to accommodate as many as students and researchers.
